Take Back Your Health

People make appointments to see their doctor for many different reasons. Some only when they are sick or are experiencing a new problem, while others are looking for a specific diagnosis or treatment. Some see their doctor at more regular intervals for ongoing follow-up of a chronic problem. For many, however; the frequency of office visits is not clear.

Join DR. JEFF SELWYN to learn more about the importance of visiting your doctor and what to discuss at your next visit.
